

1) We attract people with 'edge'

The Agillic team possess more than just the professional competencies required to complete their jobs. All our personnel share a common 'edge' - a mixture of personal commitment, positive attitude and identity that combines to produce extraordinary results and innovation.

2) The Agillic spirit is embedded in all we do

We encourage all new joiners to embrace the Agillic spirit of having fun and getting things done with vigor and determination. We work together, as a team, to meet our goals and ensure our staff is provided with the necessary tools and coaching required to maximise individual performances.

3) We strive for excellence

We set challenging goals for individuals and the company to ensure we always strive to achieve excellence by exceeding our own expectations.

4) We make it happen with edge ...

We bring our 'edge' to work every day with ambition and determination. We aim to achieve outstanding performance by bringing our teams to new and exciting levels of execution and innovation. This successfully builds our market value and ensures Agillic stays ahead of its competition.

5) Committed to value creation for our clients and partners

We strongly believe value creation is the key to business development and the core principle of any company. Everyone at Agillic is committed to delivering their share of the total value creation by ensuring a never-ending commitment to the innovation and execution of business values for our company, partners and clients.

6) We make mistakes

Along the way we may make mistakes. This demonstrates our commitment to innovation and our ability to keep our processes and abilities sharp. By taking risks we continually extend the Agillic 'edge'.

7) Mistakes are not repeated

We never make the same mistake twice - we learn, resolve and move on from every misjudgment.

8) We lead by taking the lead

Agillic executives, managers and individuals lead by example, by putting in the required commitment and effort, and leading from the frontline.

9) Leadership is everywhere

We encourage everyone to lead and excel in everything they do. Agillic rewards personnel that go the extra mile, who show leadership and are not afraid to learn from mistakes in order to meet personal goals.

10) Good Business Acumen

We believe good business acumen and cost effective operational management is key to running a successful business. Success is reached when we, our clients and partners achieve profit from our partnerships.
